Discouraging news came to Miss Hollat night in a message from Paris stating that her request that the time fixed for the purchase of the Paris Lighthouse be extended until January 1 had been denied. The cablegrams from M. Chevrillon, Paris representative of the Lighthouse, said that the blinded inmates of the refuge, many of them wounded Verdun veterans would be ejected in six days if the purchase terms were not met. Mr. Mather, Miss Holt's fiance, said that $100,000 must be raised by that date if ejection was to be prevented.
